

DEPARTMENT OF EMERGENCY MEDICINE
GRAND ROUNDS LECTURES 2006-2007

DATE	TITLE	SPEAKER
September 5, 2006	Chest pain, syncope and palpitations in children	Thomas Biancaniello, MD, FACC Vice Dean for Clinical Affairs, School of Medicine Chief Medical Officer, Stony Brook Univ. Hospital Chief, Pediatric Cardiology
October 3, 2006	Current trends in drug use/abuse	Eduardo Constantino, MD Asst Professor, Dept of Psychiatry Stony Brook Univ. Hospital
November 7, 2006	Syncope and the San Francisco Syncope Rule	James Quinn MD, MS Associate Professor of Surgery/Emergency Med Research Director, Division of Emergency Medicine Stanford University
December 5, 2006	Application of physiologic principles in clinical medicine	Richard Summers, MD Professor of Emergency Medicine Director of Research, Dept of Emergency Medicine University of Mississippi Medical Center
January 9, 2007		Hongdao Meng, PhD Assistant Professor Graduate Program in Public Health Dept. of Preventative Medicine Stony Brook University
February 6, 2007	Pain Management and Oligoanalgesia	Knox Todd, MD, MPH Assoc Professor, Dept of Emergency Medicine Beth Israel Medical Center, NY
March 6, 2007	Trauma Resuscitation: Crystalloids, Blood and Beyond	Thomas Scalea, MD, FACS Physician-in-Chief, Shock Trauma Center Francis X. Kelly/MBNA Professor of Trauma Surgery Director, Program in Trauma University of Maryland
April 3, 2007	Evaluation of the Low Risk ACS Patient.	David Brown, M.D. Co-Director Stony Brook Heart Center Chief, Division of Cardiovascular Medicine Professor of Medicine Stony Brook School of Medicine
May 1, 2007	The Anatomy of an Mortality and Morbidity Conference	Carey D. Chisholm, M.D. Residency Program Director Department of Emergency Medicine Indiana University School of Medicine
June 5, 2007	The ABC's of Billing and Coding	William Felegi, DO Vice Chair, Dept of Emergency Medicine Morristown Memorial Hospital